Kidney Complaint.

PROBABLY there is no complaint that afflicts the human system, which is so little understood at the present time, as some of the varied forms of Kidney Complaints.

There is no disease which causes such acute pain or is more alarming in its results than when the kidneys fail to secrete from the blood the uric acid, and other poisonous substances, which the blood accumulates in its circulation through the system.

If, from any cause the kidneys fail to perform the functions devolving upon them, the emulations are taken up by the absorbents and the whole system thrown into a state of disease, causing great pain and suffering, and very often immediate death. Hence the importance of keeping the kidneys and blood in a healthy condition, through which all the impurities of the body must pass.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

There is no remedy known to medical science which has proved itself more valuable in cases of Kidney Complaints than the VEGETINE. It acts directly upon the secretions, cleanses and purifies the blood, and restores the whole system to healthy action.

The following extraordinary cure of great sufferers, who had been given up by the best physicians as hopeless cases, will speak for themselves, and should challenge the most profound attention of the medical faculty, as well as of those who are suffering from Kidney Complaint.

THE BEST MEDICINE.

EAST MARSHFIELD, Aug. 22, 1870.

MR. STEVENS: Dear Sir—I am seventy-one years of age; have suffered many years with Kidney Complaint, weakness in my back and stomach. I was induced by friends to try your VEGETINE, and I think it the best medicine for weakness of the Kidneys I ever used. I have tried many remedies for this complaint, and never found so much relief as from the VEGETINE. It strengthens and invigorates the whole system. Many of my acquaintances have taken it, and I believe it to be good for all the complaints for which it is recommended. Yours truly,

JOSIAH H. SHERMAN.

Pronounced Incurable.

BOSTON, May 30, 1871.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.: Dear Sir—I have been badly afflicted with Kidney Complaint for ten years; have suffered great pain in my back, hips and side, with great difficulty in passing urine, which was often, and in very small quantities, frequently accompanied with blood and excruciating pain.

I have faithfully tried most of the popular remedies recommended for my complaint; I have been under the treatment of some of the most skillful physicians in Boston, all of whom pronounced my case incurable. This was my condition when I was advised by a friend to try VEGETINE, and I could see the good effects from the first dose I took, and from that moment I kept on improving until I was entirely cured, taking in all, I should think, about six bottles.

It is indeed a valuable medicine and if I should be afflicted again in the same way, I would give a dollar a dose, if I could not get it without.

Respectfully,

J. M. GILE,
361 Third Street, South Boston.

NEARLY BLIND.

H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—In expressing my thanks to you for benefits derived from the use of VEGETINE, and to benefit others, I will state:—

When eight or nine years old I was afflicted with Scrofula, which made its appearance in my eyes, face and head, and I was very near blind for two years. All kinds of operations were performed on my eyes, and all to no good result. Finally the disease principally settled in my body, limbs and feet, and at times in an aggravated way.

Last summer I was, from some cause, weak in my spine and kidneys, and it was at times very hard to retain the urine. Seeing your advertisement in the Commercial, I bought a bottle of VEGETINE, and commenced using according to directions. In two or three days I obtained great relief. After using four or five bottles I noticed it had a wonderful effect on the rough, scaly blotches on my body and legs. I still used VEGETINE and the humorous sores one after another disappeared until they were all gone, and I attribute the cure of the two diseases to VEGETINE, and nothing else.

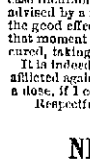

If I am ever affected with anything of the kind again I shall try VEGETINE as the only reliable remedy. Once more accept my thanks, and believe me to be, Very respectfully, AUSTIN PARROTT, Dec 1, 1872, No. 33 Gano St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, etc., are always unpleasant, and at times they become the most distressing and dangerous diseases that can affect the human system. Most diseases of the Kidneys arise from impurities in the blood, causing humors which settle on these parts. VEGETINE excels any known remedy in the whole world for cleansing and purifying the blood, thereby causing a healthy action to all the organs of the body.

VEGETINE IS SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

TO PHYSICIANS AND INVALIDS.

The flexible, self-applying Electric Disks, Dr. Garratt's invention, make without care or trouble, "gentle and prolonged applications" of very true primary currents. They prove sufficiently active and durable for this peculiar method.

While worn by night or day for cold rheumatic neuralgia, lameness, weakness, or chronic pains, the disk is sure to generate and apply its constant multipolar electric action. Each metal acts as element and pole. They are wired wool-meled for deep polar inworking. As shown by the expert judges, and in practice, these disks excel all other attempts at this sort of appliance. Nothing like them.

Large disk, $2 50. Children's $1. Other sizes. Also, our new Insulating Chest Protector, 75c., Children's, 50c. Sold by druggists and surgical instrument dealers. Sent by mail on receipt of price, by GARRATT & Co., 5 Hamilton Place, Boston, Mass. jy18

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM NEW YORK.

ACCIDENT ON THE NEW JERSEY CENTRAL ROAD.

A DIABOLICAL PIECE OF WORK.

Three Passengers Killed and Fourteen Injured.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.

The train on the Central railroad of New Jersey, which left Jersey City yesterday evening, was heavily laden with commuters from New York, who had been delayed by the strike of railway engineers and firemen. This side of Somerville the train went off the track. The engine was turned upon its side. Two coaches were piled upon the locomotive, and three other coaches were thrown from the rails. Three passengers were taken out of the wreck dead. Five others were seriously wounded and nine slightly.

Cause of the Accident a Switch Purposely Misplaced.

The accident was caused by a misplaced switch. The switch was turned to throw the train off the track and plugged with a stick, and the switch board was turned to show the green light, "All right," and chocked firmly in place.

The train preceding the wrecked one for Philadelphia passed all right forty five minutes before. The mischief was done between ten minutes past 6 and 7 P. M.

Additional Particulars.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 25.

The following are additional particulars of the accident on the Central railroad last night, at Evona, two miles west of Plainfield: A passenger train left this city at 6:45 P. M., with C. G. Williams, master mechanic, of Communipaw, as engineer, and R. J. Swackehammer, master of bridges, as fireman, and traveled at a medium rate of speed until it arrived at the switch near Evona. The engine had no headlight lit. The safety light at the switch was burning and the engineer kept on. The switch was turned and the locomotive ran off the track and plunged into the bank. Three cars were telescoped and totally wrecked. Three others were considerably damaged; the other three did not leave the track. The locomotive was not badly broken.

The Killed and Injured.

William Reilly of Phillipsburg, brakeman, standing on the front platform of the first car, was thrown into the tender of the engine, and the second passenger car ran over the first one and fell into the tender, killing him instantly. Nathaniel Derich was killed. Col. A. S. Ten Eyck, Hon. John G. Schenck and John A. Cline were seriously injured. Fifteen others were slightly injured.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA OUTRAGES.

Governor Chamberlain's Reasons for Calling Government Aid.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.

Governor Chamberlain writes a long letter to the Tribune, giving details of outrages on negroes, particularly at and around Ellenton, and says, But in truth there was only one phase or centre of the Violence and Insurrection.

It virtually overspread the counties of Aiken and Barnwell, producing a reign of terror, which depopulated large sections of those counties of all colored males. Investigations now in progress indicate unmistakably that the exceed the estimates heretofore formed by me or by those most familiar with the facts.

Actual Murders Committed

Scores of Colored Men are still missing in addition to those already known to have been killed.

He says the charge of misgovernment is disproved by the public utterances of men who are now supporters of Wade Hampton, and he closes as follow:

Before the Election Campaign,

The charge that I have been influenced by the desertion of republicans to the democratic party would receive no consideration from those acquainted with the political situation here. A free vote today in this state will

Elect the Republican Candidates

by fully 20,000 majority.

Besides this I declares, and I challenge any shadow of proof to the contrary, that no party interests, however great or pressing, could ever have induced me so much as to contemplate the use of my official position for asking military aid of the United States to carry an election.

It is only as an incident inseparable from the case at this time that I have considered or alluded to the facts or the results affecting political parties.

I have acted as chief magistrate of the State, I have sought to protect the lives and rights of the people Without Regard to Party.

No man in South Carolina by reason of any act of mine or of the President of the United States will be hindered or dissuaded from voting the democratic ticket, if his free judgment shall so incline him.

Right-minded men would have judged us

Recreant to Our Trusts

if in a proper case we had failed to exert the power intrusted to us for the restoration of the public peace and the preservation of the State Government. Upon a calm review I am convinced that and that such a condition of affairs now exists in this State as warrants my action and that of the President of the United States.

Such a Case has Arisen,

[Signed] D. H. CHAMBERLAIN,
Governor of South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 21, 1876.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

No European War.

Private cable despatches to the leading foreign bankers prophesy there will be no European war.

The Reported Advance of 1 per cent. in the German and Russian bank rates today is not regarded here as any particular indication of further troubles.

Washington telegrams say there will be no more of the Northwestern Railroad show an increase of $133,000. The third week in October earnings of the St. Paul Railroad show a decrease of $39,000.

The September Net Earning

Old Bonds Called in for the purpose of issuing new 4½ per cents. until after the presidential election.

Liverpool Telegrams

report the cotton trade unusually buoyant, with sales of 25,000 bales and an advance of 1-16 in quotations.

Chicago Despatches

report grain buoyant and higher. Wheat sold up to 112⅝ for November and 114¾ for December delivery.

The Stock Market

at noon was generally dull and ⅛ to ¼ per cent. below the higher prices of the morning. It was reported that some of the

Leading Bulls Sold Out

this morning.

A well-informed Milwaukee dealer in wheat estimates that the

Yield in Minnesota

this year has not exceeded 15,000,000 bushels, and that the quantity for export will not exceed 14,000,000 bushels. In Iowa, he says, there will

Not be a Bushel for Export, the farmers having no more than they need for home use and for seed.

Lackawanna Coal Sale.

At the Delaware & Lackawanna Railroad coal sale, this noon, 100,000 tons were sold, at prices generally lower than the last sale, Sept. 27. Steamer coal was exceptionally firmer, at $2.95 to $2.97½, against $2.87½ to $2.92½. The other grades are all lower. Grate sold at $2.80 to $2.82½; egg, $2.90 to $3, against $3.15 to $3.30; stove, $3.82½ to $3.87½, against $3.90 to $4; chestnut, $3.77½ to $3.82½, against $3.20 to $3.33½.

NEW YORK CITY POLITICS.

TILDEN SUSPICIOUS OF TAMMANY.

The Democratic Split.

It is learned that the political quarrel between John Kelly, the leader of Tammany Hall, August Belmont and other leading men of Tammany Hall and Mr. Tilden, which was first developed at the St. Louis convention, had not been effectually healed, and that local issues have revived the animosities.

Mr. Tilden Has Grown Suspicious of the loyalty of Tammany Hall, and in order to guard against any treachery at the polls next month he had organized the movement in favor of Green for mayor. A very serious split in the local democratic party exists.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Riot at Port Gibson, Miss.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 25.

The Jackson, Miss., Clarion of Monday, contained the following in reference to a riot on Saturday, at Port Gibson:

PORT GIBSON, Miss., Oct. 21.

To J. B. George.—It is lynch day here, and there is much excitement. Spratt saying he was Deputy Marshal, started towards town with an armed body of negroes. Our sheriff met them with a posse and ordered their dispersion, claiming the right to keep the peace in his country. The Marshal disbanded the party. None of our people are armed.

(Signed.) VERTNER.

Second Dispatch.

PORT GIBSON, Miss., Oct. 21.

To J. B. George—The Sprat negroes fired from an ambush on a few of the Sheriff's posse two miles from town doing no damage except to horses. The whites returned the fire wounding one and capturing several negroes, the ballance escaping into the swamp. After reinforcing we followed but have not caught up as yet.

The Memphis Avalanche this morning says the following was received from republican sources last night and is printed for what it is worth:

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 24.

Representations that the negroes were the aggressors in the Claiborne county riot is utterly without foundation. United States Deputy Marshal Spratt who arrived here last night reports that prior to the day for which Lynch was gazetted to speak at Port Gibson the indications were he would not be permitted to do so. Deaths heads with cross bones, with the date of the meeting on each side, were placarded over the county. Democratic clubs assembled and armed under pretence of preserving the peace. One hundred White Liners acted as sheriffs and policemen. Colored people were not permitted to carry arms to the meeting. Having been promised protection by the sheriff, they left their arms two miles from town. At the commencement of the meeting Lynch was grossly insulted by the democrats, and declined speaking under the restrictions imposed by them. A notorious colored democrat, under a number of indictments, was put forward by the democrats when the colored people began to disperse. They were pursued by the democratic mob with arms, and effectually stampeded. They were hunted like partridges, but the object was apparently not to murder but intimidate them so they would abandon their determination to register and vote. They were pursued two miles, when, reaching their guns, they fired on the whites. Two horses of the whites were wounded. One negro was wounded and several were arrested and lodged in Port Gibson jail.

This is the first republican meeting attempted to be held in Claiborne county. Deputy Marshal Spratt reports terrorism throughout the county, and says the republicans cannot vote unless protected by the United States troops. A company of troops is now stationed at Port Gibson, but the commanding officer did nothing to preserve the peace.

The Unification of the Methodist Church.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 25.

A large number of Methodist ministers and laymen, representing both the southern and northern branches of the church held their meetings here today, looking towards the formation and establishment of feelings more fraternal between the two sections of their denomination than have prevailed since 1844. At the meeting of the northern and southern divisions, Bishop Foster, of Massachusetts, and Bishop Cavanaugh, delivered addresses thanking God that union had been brought about after thirty two years of separation of the largest ecclesiastical denomination in the United States.

SOWING GRASS SEED ALONE.

Farmers as a class cannot be made to believe that grass seed will succeed just as well, and often a great deal better, if sown alone than with grain, in the usual way. If the land is rich and the following season favorable to the growth of grass then a good stand may usually be obtained by sowing with grain; but if droughts should occur the young, delicate grass is likely to be smothered or to perish for want of water. The grain among which it is growing being so much larger and more vigorous will appropriate to itself the bulk of the moisture and fertility of the soil.

The severe drought which has prevailed in the Atlantic states the present season will make re-seeding of many thousands of acres necessary, and we suggest to those who have never given the sowing of grass seed alone a trial to do so this fall, and see if a better stand of grass cannot be obtained in that way than by the old doubling-up system. When grass and grain are sown together both must necessarily suffer more or less from crowding, if not for lack of moisture, and as the grass is the weaker, it is injured most, the result being a feeble growth not worth gathering for hay, of little value for pasture until the second year. But if the grass seed is sown alone in early autumn, or about the time of sowing winter grain, it will generally grow sufficiently rank to yield a fair crop of hay the following season, and will not be half so liable to be destroyed by droughts.

The system of sowing grass seed alone may not answer equally well in all localities and soils, but it is being practised by our best farmers, some of whom have expressed to us surprise at their own stupidity at so long practising the old system. We have tested both systems time and again, and invariably the grass seed sown alone was far the best; hence the above suggestions to those who may have failed to get a good stand in their fields the present season. There is, however, this disadvantage in sowing grass seed alone, that one plowing and harrowing does not answer for two crops as when it is put in with grain.

A story that is told partly at the expense of Edwin Booth, the actor, who is now playing in San Francisco, is not so apocryphal but that it will be enjoyed: "An agricultural admirer of the actor brought an enormous watermelon to the stage door as a present to him, and was admitted. He stood at the upper wing waiting for Booth to come off, when he suddenly recollected that he had left his team untied. He laid the melon down and rushed out. In the meantime the melon rolled to the centre of the stage, down to where Booth and McCullough were in a very earnest colloquy as Iago and Othello. It much astonished Iago by a blow in the legs, and, being kicked, rolled to the side of the stage and fell off. The orchestra made it a prisoner, and at the close of the act ate it."

It would serve South Carolina fire-eaters just right if every colored person should leave the state, every northern or foreign born person do the same, and every one of them withdraw his capital and his trade, and leave the restless, shiftless, swaggering ex-nigger-whippers to do their own work or starve.

THE DAY.

The republicans are arranging for another public meeting in this city.

Since the introduction of water in Taunton the rate of insurance has been slightly reduced.

The Cliff Cottage Association has sold the lot of land on Weaver street and the stable, standing on the same to Gen. A. L. Burdick for $4,4000.

Governor Lippitt bought the Ballou manufacturing property at Woonsocket yesterday at auction for $363,000. This is $13,000 above the appraisal.

Gov. Hayes has gone to the centennial. As the people are anxious to get a view of the next president, it is expected the attendance today will be quite large.

The Hayes and Wheeler club have decided to hereafter keep open the upper rooms of Bateman's building for campaign purposes The lower hall will be used as before.

The New York Times has but little difficulty in supplying the place of the striking printers. The "union" is pretty well played out, and its usurpations ought to be resisted everywhere.

Gov. Chamberlain, in a letter to the New York Tribune regarding the situation in South Carolina, says the murders committed are in excess of the number reported, and that scores of colored men are still missing. He also claims that a free and fair ballot will result in the triumph of the republican ticket by at least 20,000 majority.

The engineers of the New Jersey railroads might have had some sympathy in their strike, but for the "accident" reported, by which several lives have been lost and many persons injured. Men who will commit wholesale murder in this way are not fit to be engineers. The authorities owe it to the public to make every effort in their power to bring such miscreants to justice.

The latest despatches from the seat of war in Servia state that a battle is now in progress before Deligrad, from which fact it is inferred that possibly the reported capture of Djunis by the Turks on Monday was premature. Some doubts are also expressed by the correspondents of an agreement being concluded between Turkey and the powers regarding a further armistice.

The telegraph brings another dispatch concerning the unification of Methodism in the United States. As we have stated once before, no such unification has taken place and no negotiations have even been undertaken for the union of the northern and southern churches. The two churches have simply established fraternal relations such as exist between Baptists and Methodists, or Presbyterians and Lutherans, and have gone no further.

GOVERNOR TILDEN AND THE SOUTHERN CLAIMS.

Gov. Tilden has found it necessary to speak for himself, and for the furtherance of his interest in the coming presidential elections. Like Gen. Butler in Massachusetts he urges his own cause with eloquence and zeal, and presents the reasons why he thinks he should be elected to the high office for which he is nominated. While we admit that it is not very dignified for a candidate to personally enter into the canvas, we think the country will be pleased to learn the views of Mr. Tilden on the subject of the rebel debt and the southern claims generally. He says:

Should I be elected President, the provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment, will, so far as depends on me, be maintained, executed and enforced in perfect and absolute good faith. No rebel debt will be assumed or paid. No claim for the loss and emancipation of any slave will be allowed. No claim for any loss or damage incurred by disloyal persons arising from the late war, whether covered by the Fourteenth Amendment or not, will be recognized or paid. The cotton tax will not be refunded. I shall deem it my duty to veto every bill providing for the assumption or payment of any such debts, losses, damages, claims, or for the refunding of any such tax.

The danger to the national Treasury is not from claims of persons who aided the rebellion, but from claims of persons residing in the Southern states, or having property in those states, who were, or pretended to be, or who for the sake of aiding claims now pretend to have been loyal to the government of the Union. Such claims, even of loyal persons, where they are from facts caused by the operations of war, have been disowned by the public law of civilized nations, condemned by the adjudication of the Supreme Court of the United States, and only find any status by force of specific legislation of Congress. These claims have become stale and are often tainted with fraud. They are nearly always owned in whole or in part by claim agents, by speculators, or lobbyists, who have no equity against the tax payers or the public. They should in all cases be scrutinized with jealous care.

These views are sound and orthodox even from the republican standpoint. The letter will be of service to the writer in northern states, and will do him no harm in the South for however much the rebel democracy may object to these views they know very well that nothing is to be gained by voting for Gen. Hayes. The letter of Mr. Tilden may be regarded as an important element in the canvas, and if the country were sure he could bring the party to the same views, would be of great service. But with such men coming to the front as Ben. Hill, Wade Hampton and A. P. Butler, and such tactics as are seen in the organization of South Carolina rifle clubs it will be found that the country is not quite ready to abandon the present land marks and trust the government to the tender mercies of those have so earnestly sought to destroy it. No one can read Mr. Tilden's letter and feel that he is himself a dangerous man in his relation to the rebel debt and the southern claims. He speaks out boldly and distinctly in favor of what is right and proper, and should have the credit of so doing. We are disposed to do him justice, and to believe that he means what he says. It required some courage to write such a letter, and we confess that on this point we can trust him. But the question comes up, in view of the action of the present house of representatives. Can we trust the party?

Governor Hayes of Ohio, accompanied by his staff and ex-Governor Noyes, will visit the Centennial Exhibition today.

A teachers' institute will be held at Centreville, Warwick, on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 27 and 28, at the M. E. church.

St. Michael's Church, Roman Catholic, at Westerly, having been repaired at a cost of about $4000, was rededicated on Sunday.

The new president of Howard University, at Washington is likely to be Rev. Peter H. Clark of Cincinnati, a colored clergyman.

Nearly all the mills on the south branch of the Pawtuxet are idle this week on account of low water and the progress of repairs on one of the reservoirs.

Thomas Ball, the sculptor, has received the contract for a bronze statue of Charles Sumner, heroic size, to be erected in the Public Garden on the south side.

Matilda Heron, the actress, obtained $1,500 damages in New York, yesterday, for injuries sustained by falling into a coal-hole in Twenty-third street in that city last year.

Mr. W. W. Corcoran of Washington has, through Mr. A. H. Stuart, the rector of the University of Virginia, given $5000 to be applied to the enlargement of the library of that institution.

The news from Iceland by private letters is very deplorable. The fishing season has been quite a failure, and no fewer than 1800 Icelanders have emigrated to Canada. The privations of the laboring classes are very great.

The members of the First Baptist Church, Somerset street, are making an effort to create an annual income of $500 for their pastor, Rev. Dr. Neale, with the design of then accepting his resignation.

The New York Seventh Regiment has rendered its services as body guard to Tilden on his inauguration as President of the United States. It will be a veteran organization by that time.

If the unfortunate misunderstanding which has arisen between Sitting Bull and General Sherman can be arranged, the noble Sioux will come into the agencies and remain the stanch friend of the white man till the grass grows next spring.

George Miller, twenty years old, target tender for the Worcester sportsmen's club, was killed while tending the target yesterday afternoon. He mistook the report of a shot gun in the woods near by for a rifle, and stepped in front of the target in time to receive a bullet through the left breast. Death resulted in about ten minutes.

In the Bois de Boulogne, Paris, recently was a marriage procession on velocipedes, each gentleman having a lady behind him as our granddames used to ride horseback in colonial times. The leader of this strange procession played a violin.

Years ago, when a painter wanted to depict wholesale anguish he went for inspiration to the place where criminals were tortured to death; but now he finds a better and more convenient subject in the young man in the front seat at the theatre whose tall collar has become unbuttoned behind.

The commissioners of Fairmount park have agreed to allow the main exhibition building to remain for exhibition purposes, the only admissions to be 25 cents, except Saturday, when it shall be 10 cents, the privilege to be terminable on two years' notice.

The admissions yesterday at the centennial at 60 cents were 107,291; at half fee 648. The Bishop Allen statue, erected in honor of the first bishop of the African Methodist Episcopal church in the United States, was placed in position today on the centennial grounds.

General Garfield was summoned to Washington, yesterday from Pennsylvania, where he was making speeches, by a despatch saying his son was ill. He arrived just in time to see him breathe his last. All his political appointments for the remainder of the campaign have been cancelled.

Naturalization is progressing with a rush in New York city, in preparation for the presidential election. It is worth while to consider the nationality of the persons made citizens. Of 2500 in the supreme court, 850 were Irish, only a third of the whole number. Germany bears off the palm, with 1050. One hundred Russians were made into Americans, 75 English, 45 Frenchmen, 65 Austrians, 95 Poles, 30 Scotch, 27 Swedes, and so on down to one Mexican.

Belknap, on his return to Washington, the other day, found himself by a strange chance the sole occupant of the hotel 'bus with Heister Clymer, to whom he owes his exposure. They were once old friends and classmates at Princeton College. Not a word was spoken by either of them during the ride. They studiously avoided looking at one another. Belknap, for the first time since his "acquittal" by the Senate, looked embarrassed at the awkwardness of the situation.

—The brig John Mason, Porter, master, with salt, twenty one days from St. Martin, arrived here last night for orders.

—The steamer Providence, owing to extra work in getting her ready, did not leave her dock here until a late hour last night.

—Officer Beaumont arrested a fellow on Thames street, yesterday afternoon, for insulting ladies. The man refused to give his name.

—A girl named Mahaney, employed at the Perry Mill, put her ankle out of joint Tuesday, throwing off the belt to her spinning frame with her foot instead of using her hand.

—The omnibus line will enter upon the winter arrangement next Monday. The omnibuses will run from the postoffice, up Thames street, to the one mile corner on Broadway.

—Stuart Robson, with a good support, appears in this city next Tuesday evening in Bret Harte's new play, Two Men of Sandy Bar. On Wednesday night we are to have Washburn's Last Sensation which will include a little of everything.

Martin Kinney, while under the influence of liquor last evening, fell in front of the wagon of the Kinsley Express Company. Mr. Childs, the driver, fortunately saw him and stopped his horse in time to prevent a horrible accident.

—The Newport chowder association had another of their unique dinners yesterday at the boat house, and about fifty persons, including several ladies, were present. Everything passed off pleasantly. The excellent chowder and coffee were prepared by Messrs. Ailman and Kaull assisted by A. H. Simmons.

—An interesting game of quoits was played at Fall River, yesterday afternoon, by Messrs. John Brown and James Buchanan of this city, and Messrs. John Wightman and John Gregan of Fall River. The prize was a handsome set of china. In the first game the score stood—Buchanan 21: Gregan 12. In the second Brown's score was 21 and Wightman's 13. In order to decide who was the winner, the round was played off by Messrs. Brown and Buchanan and was decided in favor of the former, his score being 21 to 17 for his opponent, Mr. Brown also won the second and last game, the prize being a bird cage.

—There is a piece of wood carving at the furniture warerooms of J. L. & G. A. Hazard, which is worthy of attention. The article is a praying chair the back of which is elaborately and elegantly cut. The design represents the emblems of the crucifixion, the cross and the crown of thorns, with the letters I. H. S. in the center. Wheat and grapes, emblematical of the bread and wine, are entwined about the standard of the cross and the whole blends in the most chaste and fitting manner. The cutting was done by Mr. Godbold, from drawings by himself, and the chair was made to order for a customer in Providence.

A DISTURBANCE IN MIDDLETOWN.

A LESSEE OF A FARM KNOCKS DOWN THE LESSOR.—LOADS HIS GUN WITH A HEAVY CHARGE AND PATROLS HIS PREMISES.—THE DEPUTY SHERIFF CALLED IN AND THE ASSAILANT TAKEN IN CUSTODY.

Last Spring William B. Greene, said to be a vigorous old man, very deaf, enjoying the title of "doctor" and employed occasionally by those who seem to be born with a predilection for quackery in all its branches, and who is said to have lived a sort of nomad life, illy fed and poorly clothed, struck a bargain with John D. Northam to go out to his farm in Middletown and work it by the halves, that is, he was to conduct the labor of the farm and receive one half the produce. He is a remarkably vigorous man of his age, and it would seem by the testimony of the neighbors that he has worked late and early throughout the planting season and until harvest, and when he undertook to realize something from his share of the crops, Northam seems to have demurred, and there was a row, each being afraid that the other would overreach him and get more than his part, until Northam took out a writ and attached all Greene's share.

Green occupied a cottage house near the mansion house on the farm, and Northam and he had often quarrels, until one day lately Northam having entered Greene's premises, an altercation occurred when Greene knocked Northam down, bruising his face badly and knocking out two of his teeth. Greene then loaded a gun he had on his premises and patroled his "beat" around the house with the gun on his shoulder. Northam brought a suit of trespass and ejectment against Greene, but before that matured, he took out a writ in an action of trespass in personam by assault and battery, in which the damages were laid at one thousand dollars, which was placed in the hands of deputy Sheriff Lake. On Monday last accompanied by officer Beaumont, the deputy visited the seat of war, took Greene into custody—and committed him to jail for want of bail. It is an action of tort and he can not take the poor debtor's oath under six months during which time the plaintiff will have to pay his board. He can be bailed at any time when any responsible person will assume the responsibility. The gun with which Greene guarded his premises was brought in after a good sound charge of powder and shot had been discharged from it. The matter had assumed a threatening and serious aspect and it is well for the public peace that they have been separated, although just where the equity is, the courts alone must decide.

LONG LIVE HUMBUG.

Sunflower, the spirit of an Indian maiden, who has for some time past been "materializing" in Boston through the agency of a Mrs. Bennet, called the "West End medium," was discovered a few nights ago, after the performance, stowed away under the floor of the apparition-room. A movable board in the corner of the room gave the Sunflower a chance to conceal herself before the spectators fully recovered from their astonishment, and the light was let on. On being dragged out of her den on the night in question, the Indian maiden proved to be a woman of substantial proportions and considerable knowledge of the world, but with a shrinking from publicity very natural under the circumstances, as she said she was already under heavy bonds in a criminal suit, and the exposure of her name might injure her reputation. Neither the principals nor the confederate in this particular swindle appear to have been put to any inconvenience beyond what may come from the temporary interruption of their business.—[Boston Advertiser.

DEATH TO THE SPARROWS.

Now that the cold weather is coming on we trust that no citizen will put up any box or shelter, or allow any already up to remain, for the protection of the noisy, nasty, murderous, thieving, useless, unmitigated nuisances, the English sparrows. We have endured them long enough. We had rather have worms. These little villians were imported for the purpose of destroying the canker, or measuring worm, but proved a failure. To be sure we have none of those worms now but the sparrows are entitled to no credit for the fact. The canker worms come periodically and stay about seven years, when they disappear entirely and are followed by the caterpillars, or bag worms, for a like period, the two never appearing together in the same localities. It is certain, however, that the sparrows drive off or destroy all the other small birds. Before their advent the robbins, Baltimore orioles and blackbirds built their nests and reared their young in all the trees between Main and High streets and in many other sections of our city, and their songs were one of the delights of the spring mornings to all the residents of the vicinity, but now they are nearly, if not quite, all gone; driven from their homes by the ruffianly sparrows. The only good thing about the sparrows is that they destroy one another occasionally. We saw one a short time since pursue and deliberately murder one of his fellows, but they do not do enough of it. Let them die.—[Middletown (Ct.,) Sentinel.

"Men," said one of Theodore Winthrop's characters, "are divided into three classes: them as grabs their chances, them as chucks away their chances, and them as lets their chances slide;" and he might have added that each of the last two classes largely outnumbers the first. Boys are throwing away their chances in life every day by shirking, and lazing, and dawdling, and deceiving, and they are "letting them slide," through heedlessness, inattention, and a fatal don't-care-ativeness. "I don't care" is one of the worst mottoes a boy, or a man either, can have. It is the boys and men who do care, and care rightly, who win. In everyday, practical, material affairs, as truly as in spiritual things, it is they who are faithful over a few that are made rulers over many.

Next to Turkey, Great Britain is the largest Muzzleman power in the world, her Mohammedan subjects numbering 75,600.

THE WIDOW NOW GOES 'ROUND.

To the tune of "The Elephant Now Goes 'Round."

Ben Butler's on the wend!
He goes to every town,
And carries in a Southern friend
To make himself go down!
CHORUS—The Widow now goes 'round!
Her hollow farce to play;
But boys who've been behind the scenes
Had better keep a way!

Ben says that he's as good
As General Washington!
For he had his expenses paid
For duty he had done!
CHORUS—The Widow now goes 'round, etc.

But we don't see it so!
This is the difference true—
G. Washington drew pay for one,
B. Butler grabbed for two!
CHORUS—The Widow now goes 'round, etc.

RECEIPTS.

Vienna Coffee.—A correspondent furnishes the receipt for making the celebrated Vienna coffee. Make it double strength. Mix it with an equal quantity of boiled milk. Then add a tablespoonful of beaten cream and white of an egg. To prepare the latter take white of one egg to a pint of cream and beat thoroughly.

Cleaning Statuary.—Soap in any shape must never touch a statue, for it turns it permanently yellow. To clean a statue, mix pumice stone and very clear water to the thickness of cream, and rub it all over with a soft brush, just as a man lathers his face for shaving; lather it in well. A shaving brush (new, of course, and washed very clean) is a good brush to use. Let this dry on, and then brush off with a stiff hair brush—not a whisk. These brushes must not be too stiff, and must be perfectly clean.

A Pretty Flower Pot.—Take one of those small fruit boxes that you saved but did not know what use it was. Varnish or stain it with walnut stain (take a bottle to a furniture dealer, and he will give you all you need for fifteen or twenty cents, and it is convenient to have in the house); then go to your wood pile, or if you have old fruit trees with little dead branches all the better, but procure twelve straight sticks of round wood about one inch in diameter and cut these three inches longer than the box. Now nail them on log-cabin fashion and varnish, and you have as pretty a pot or hanging basket as you care for.

To Restore the Whiteness of Ivory-Handled Knives.—Wash with soaped flannel and lukewarm water; then wipe very dry. Soak them occasionally in allum water that has been boiled and allowed to cool. Let the handles lie for one hour in this, then remove them and brush them well (say with a nail brush). After this take a clean linen towel, dip it in cold water, squeeze it out, and while wet wrap it around the handles, leaving them in it to dry gradually, as if dried too rapidly out of the allum water they will be injured. If properly managed, this process will whiten them. Knives, after using, should be wiped with soft paper, removing the grease, etc., then placed in a deep can or vessel, keeping the handles above water, lukewarm, until washed, cleaned and thoroughly dried.

GREEN AND BLUE HAILSTONES.

Very singular hailstones are thus described by the Reading Eagle correspondent, in an account of a recent storm in the Blue Mountains of Pennsylvania: "We were astounded at the grandeur of a mountain hailstorm; but when we examined the hailstones and found some of them of a dull green color, and others a blue, we were doubly mystified. The hailstones we were accustomed to see were white and transparent to a degree. These were perfectly opaque, and seemed to be glass globes filled with a dull coloring matter. They were very cold, hard, and not in a melting mood. Some were as large as walnuts. I may say they averaged that size. Our host examined them and pronounced it the strangest thing he had ever heard of. We drew forth water from the well and emptied about three quarts of hailstones into a pail of water. The water was not discolored in the least. I never drank a glass of ice-water before as cold as that was. It had a peculiar sulphurous taste, very like the water from the Hot Springs. At first none of us cared to drink too much of it, but we finally concluded that it could not kill us, and we partook copiously of it. The after taste finally got to be bitter, and as the hail melted it became stronger. We tried to preserve the hailstones by freezing a large number together, but the next morning by ten o'clock the mass had melted and that was the last of our mysterious ice. On our travel today we met Dr. Kirby, and we were pleased to learn that he had seen hailstones of this same storm. He pronounced it a most wonderful freak of nature. He attributes it purely to electricity and the combination of various currents of atmosphere bearing upon the rain drops high up in the clouds. He said he was shown a specimen of dark green hail that seemed to have animal matter in it. One stone was shaped like a half moon, and the other had a smell of phosphorus. That had a reddish cast. He tried hard to preserve it by electricity, but failed. He said ordinary hail could be preserved, but this last species or kind completely baffled him. Another strange thing about it was, that the territory it fell upon hardly covers two square miles along the mountain side."

Plymouth church has adopted a line of action unprecedented in church history. It sent out last week a circular to all holders of pews and seats requesting them to stay at home for a few Sundays and allow their pews to be occupied by strangers. A card was enclosed on which the pew holder was asked to give the number of Sundays and sittings that he would yield up. Plymouth church seats less than 2,000 persons; 6,000 tried on a recent Sunday to get within the doors. To urge persons to stay at home from church worship is a novel procedure, but we are told that last Sunday two thirds of the church was abandoned by the members to strangers.

JOHN G. WHITTIER.

A musing farmer's boy, working in the field, and ignorant of books, he early felt the instinct moving in his soul, but thought his surroundings were essentially prosaic, and could never be sung. At last one afternoon, while he was gathering in the hay, a pedler dropped a copy of Burns into his hands. Instantly his eyes were unsealed. There in the neighboring field was "Highland Mary;" "The Cotter's Saturday Night" occurred in his own father's pious New England home; and the birds which carolled over his head, the flowers which grew under his feet, were as poetic as those to which the Scottish ploughman had given perennial interest. Burns taught him to detect the beautiful in the common, but Burns could not corrupt the singularly pure soul of the lad by his enticing suggestions of idealized physical enjoyment and unregulated passion. The boy grew into a man cultivating assiduously his gift of song, though shy of showing it. The anti-slavery storm swept over the land, awakening consciences as well as stimulating intellects. Whittier had always lived in a region of moral ideas, and this anti-slavery inspiration inflamed his moral ideas into moral passions and moral wrath. If Garrison may be considered the prophet of anti-slavery, and Phillips its orator, and Mrs. Stowe its novelist, and Sumner its statesman, there can be no doubt that Whittier was its poet. Quaker as he was, his martial lyrics had something of the energy of a primitive bard urging on hosts to battle. Every word was a blow, as uttered by this newly enrolled soldier of the Lord. "The silent, shy, peace-loving man" became a "fiery partisan," and held his intrepid way

"against the public frown,
The ban of church, and state, the fierce mob's hounding down."

He roused, condensed, and elevated the public sentiment against slavery. The poetry was as genuine as the wrath was terrific, and many a political time server, who was proof against Garrison's hottest denunciations and Phillips's most stinging invectives quailed before Whittier's smiting rhymes.—[Edwin P. Whipple.

On Gallows Hill, about a mile from Washington, Penn., is the first and only cremation furnace in the United States. It is built of brick, one story in hight, with a roof of corrugated iron; it has three chimneys and two rooms; in the reception room there is a catafalque with a few chairs for mourners; the furnace in the cremation room is 7½ feet long; coke will be used in heating the retort; the human ashes will be collected in a small box, and stored in a glass case in the reception room, with label, photograph, and poetry, if need be. No fees will be charged for incineration, inasmuch as the furnace has been dedicated to the poor by the owner, Dr. F. Julius Le Moyne.

It has been customary on the railroad, says the Virginia City (Nev.) Chronicle, to allow Indians to ride free, providing they sat on the platform. Yesterday, after the arrival of the train, an Indian entered a shed with a large bundle. His manner excited suspicion, and a man was detailed to watch him. The fellow, on getting inside the shed, stripped off his old leggins, moccasons and other aboriginal paraphernalia, and put on the garb of civilization, if not of gentility. He then took out a bottle of water, wet a handkerchief and washed the paint off his face, and lo! he was no longer an Indian, but a white man, who had been stealing a free ride from Reno.

A Washington letter says: Society has received another blow from the Navy Department. There is scarcely a marine left to dance the German. The Navy is largely furloughed on half pay, so that the gay young fellows can't afford a pair of new gloves seven times a week, and striped silk stockings with buckled shoes. But rather than do without them the girls will receive them bare-handed. They will meet them on equal grounds, and dispense with gloves and other superfluities. Every one intends economizing, and all say that there will be no extravagant display in floral decorations and dress.

The Payment of Pensions.—The annual report of the commissioner of pensions shows that the total number of pensioners on the roll June 30 was 231,821, or 2684 less than the year previously. The roll of army invalid pensioners was increased by 2912 names, and numbered 105,478. The number of widows and minor children on the roll has decreased 3718, leaving 104,885 names. The total survivors of the war of 1812 were 15,875, showing that 1669 have died during the year. The total amount paid for pensions is $28,351,599, leaving a balance of about $1,650,000 not drawn from the appropriation.

The Centennial Commission have decided that exhibitors will be at liberty to begin the removal of their goods on the morning of the 11th of November. To afford exhibitors an opportunity to dispose of unsold articles the grounds will be kept open and an admission fee of fifty cents will be charged during the week following the close of the exhibition, and as long afterwards as the Director General may deem necessary and expedient for the interest of the exhibitors.

The Old South preservation committee is said to be considering the advisability of holding centennial thanksgiving exercises in the building. It is proposed to have an exhibition of revolutionary and other relics there some time next month.

"Handsome is that handsome does," quoted a Chicago man to his wife the other day. "Yes," replied she, in a winning tone, as she held out her hand: "for instance, a husband who is always ready to handsome money to his wife."

The employes of the Bridge Company found on Tuesday morning upon the New York pier, 18 dead birds, which had been killed while flying by coming in contact with the stretched cables.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FORESTALLING DISEASE.

When we see that death is so often the penalty paid for a fatuous disregard of the symptoms of approaching disease, should we not be warned against the folly of neglecting defensive measures when called for in our own case? Assuredly we should, and upon the first manifestation of ill health or decay of physical vigor, seek the aid of medicine. The fortifying influence upon the system of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters entitle that medicine of many virtues to the highest consideration as a preventive, and it cannot be too strongly recommended as a means of arresting the progress of malarious fevers, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney and bladder troubles, gout, rheumatism, and other disorders which in their incipiency are far more easily overcome than in their maturity—albeit, the great alternative has repeatedly demonstrated its power to vanquish them in their worst phases.

oct25-n&j-1w

FALSE IMPRESSIONS.

It is generally supposed by a certain class of citizens, who are not practical or experienced, that dyspepsia can not invariably be cured, but we are pleased to say that Green's August Flower has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure dyspepsia and liver complaint in all its forms, such as sour stomach, costiveness, sick headache, palpitation of the heart, low spirits, &c., &c. Out of 30,000 dozen bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from druggists of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by James H. Taylor.

DUE REGARD HAS BEEN HAD TO

and we call your attention to this furnace, confidently believing it to be superior to any heating apparatus now before the public.

To secure durability, the lower section of the furnace enclosing the fire-pot is made of cast iron, experience having proved that ashes and soot, which accumulate at the bottom of a furnace, will not act on cast iron as readily as upon wrought iron, cast iron lasting much longer.

The most desirable improvements of this furnace are an arrangement for the admission of air on top of the fire, which effectually burns all the gas, a

SIFTING GRATE,

AN ASH PAN TO CATCH ALL THE ASHES,

A Water or Vapor Pan,

AND A

Patent Reciprocal Shaking Grate.

This grate is the best and most durable grate ever used in a furnace; it shakes easily, requires less shaking than any other grate in order to clear the fire of clinkers or slate, and is acknowledged by those who use it to be superior to any grate ever invented.

Providence, September 30, 1876.

WINDOW GARDENING.

A study of nature, as she is exhibited in the floral world, is one which comes within the reach of nearly all, and under the most adverse circumstances, often, do we see it practiced, cultivating plants in the window, growing them, it may be, in an oyster shell, a blacking box, or an old broken cup or jug. Various means are employed to have plants grow, and considerable labor bestowed upon them to have them thrive, and wonderful it is to see the success sometimes gained by those who set their minds in the proper direction. A love for house plants is one of the most ennobling affections which can enter a household, and pleasing it is to think of the great increase throughout the country of the social, elevating influence. In both country and town is this visible. For the sake of assisting any plant lovers whose knowledge is limited, I offer the few following remarks: It is necessary that plants, to succeed in the house, and flower freely during the winter, be in good health ;more so than if they were to be grown in the greenhouse : as in it they receive a suitable atmosphere and temperature for their several requirements, which only to a very limited degree can be given them in the window. When lifting plants from the open ground, to grow in the house during the winter, more success attends the operation after a good shower of rain. The soil is in better condition for adhering to the roots, which, by so doing, keeps them moist and less liable to be destroyed, than when the soil is so dry as to fall away from them. Such plants as geraniums, which grow vigorously when planted out, should have the soft parts of the shoots cut off, to prevent too great a surface of foliage remaining on the plants for the mutilated roots. A good many of them being destroyed during the operation, lessens the supply of moisture, and causes the plant to wilt, the evaporation of the leaves being more rapid than the dilapidated roots can supply. After lifting all kinds of plants from the ground, keep them cool, and shade from the sun for a few days. By this means new roots are produced before the stems make a start, which should always be secured, if possible, especially with roses, and plants of a similar nature. A window with a southern or eastern aspect is the most suitable for growing plants in, as they require, during the dull days of winter, all the solar rays procurable. When it is necessary to re-pot plants, do not give them too large a shift. Take the plant carefully out of the pot it is growing in, taking care to destroy as few of the roots as possible, then place a piece of slate or stone over the hole in the bottom of the pot intended for putting it into, then a little soil, and carefully place in the plant, pressing the soil around the pot, taking care no empty spaces between them and the side of the pot be left. Water well after the work is done, and do so always at the surface of the soil. Some folks destroy their plants, by keeping them standing all the time in saucers filled with water, and supply all the water they give them in this manner. But the watering at the surface is the superior and more natural way. The soil does not so readily sour, thereby destroying the rootlets,as is generally the consequence from keeping them all the time standing in water. It is often very difficult, during very cold weather, to keep plants from freezing in a window, even when a good fire is kept. Removing them a few feet from the glass, or setting them on the floor, greatly assists in keeping them safe. If plants should ever get a little frozen, apply over the foliage and at the roots the coldest water procurable, then set them in some dark place, and most plants, if not too far gone, with this treatment, will in a few days recuperate. Never apply warm water to frozen plants, as it will certainly destroy them.—[Meriden Republican.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S
SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants.
We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.
This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in Thousands of Cases.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels, and Wind Colic.
We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.
Be sure and call for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup,"
Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper.

RUPTURE

PATIENTS CURED 30 YEARS AGO, REMAIN SOUND.

Dr. J. A. Sherman's successful treatment of rupture has induced unprincipled persons to advertise the elastic trusses as a certain cure, KNOWING them to be but an imperfect support. Thousands of victims are today suffering through this Elastic Truss delusion.

If it is worn tight around the body it wastes away the muscles, interrupts the circulation and predisposes to paralysis; besides, the strap between the legs drags the great ball of wood upon the ligaments, spermatic cords and Pelvis Bone in a manner to produce impotency with all its horrors. Indeed the legion of trusses with their griping pressure upon the spine, abdomen and delicate parts adjacent to Rupture, sooner or later cause kidney and bladder affections; destroy manhood, making the young old, and the old useless, until life settles into frightful apathy. The afflicted should think seriously of this subject and act in accordance with the dictates of reason.

DR. SHERMAN'S Treatment is Practical, Rational and Economical; its object is immediate relief and eventual cure. It is based upon scientific principles and easily demonstrated to the comprehensions of every intelligent person. Though he does not use a truss he uses a support infinitely superior which keeps everything in proper position while the Curative Compound applied daily by the patient, excites healthy action, adhesion and cure. Besides this treatment does not interfere with labor or exercise on horseback or otherwise, and affords security against inflamed and strangulated rupture.

The afflicted are coming from all parts of the country. Terms moderate, depending upon the case. Persons from the country can receive treatment and leave for home on the same day. Send 10 cents for Dr. Sherman's books with likeness of bad cases before and after cure. References given to gentlemen who have been cured. Office No. 1 Ann street, New York. Beware of the fellow calling himself Dr. W. G. Crampion and using Dr. Sherman's name in his advertisements to decoy the afflicted. Save this advertisement. oct10-4w

TO THE LOVERS of STEREOSCOPIC VIEWS.

THE ATTENTION of the public is invited to the following views from negative by J. A. WILLIAMS, which is believed to be the best and largest collection of the gems of Newport scenery ever offered.

The negatives are all carefully taken with the best materials and instruments and aim to present not merely patches of landscapes from points chosen at random as is the case with many others, but, views which shall combine within themselves all the best elements of a picture in the artistic sense.

We would call particular attention to our new cabinet size views taken the present season, 1876, which exhibit with all the fidelity of the stereoscope.

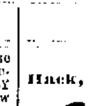

Parties who may wish to make presents to their friends abroad, or to carry home mementoes of Newport, cannot make a more acceptable choice than by selecting from the many beautiful views of Newport and surroundings.

Interiors and exteriors of houses taken to order, parties horses, &c.

Fall Campaign of 1876,

TO ALL who wish to go through the exciting presidential election with their good reputation unspotted, I will say that the best and cheapest way is to come direct to my carriage depot and purchase a good serviceable carriage with which you can rush over and by all political orators who are trying to make the dear people think just now that the salvation of our great country depends upon the people following their advice instead of each voter thinking and acting for himself. If each voter will follow this advice our country is safe.
I offer to sell cheap the following

CARRIAGES:

9 top buggies all in good order and newly painted.
4 half top barouches.
1 Brownell carryall; second-hand, in good order.
1 coupe or storm carryall, cheap.
2 new phaeton buggies.
6 open wagons cheap.
1 new carryall.
1 new express wagon.
1 new open business wagon cheap.
4 double express wagons.
1 two horse extension carryall.
2 nice dog carts.
3 two horse sleighs, (better buy now,) and several others.

Thanking my friends for their very liberal patronage during the past. By their kindness I have been able to dispose of over forty different carriages—a very good sale for Newport. I still hope by fair dealing to merit a continuance of their favors.

HOUSE PAINTING.

Now is the time to make arrangements for fall and winter house painting, and as I don't propose to call and annoy people at their residences by asking them for work and promising to do more work and better work than my brother painters can do for the same money; but, if people wanting anything done in the painting line from glazing a light of glass to painting a hotel, will call on me or drop a note to box 24, I will do the utmost to please, and will warrant all work entrusted to my care, to be done as agreed and at the time specified. My reference is the parties whom I have worked for, for the past ten years or more. Respectfully,
A. L. BURDICK,
House and carriage painter.
